THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 5.

BATTLE WITH A MAD DOG.—Dr. Hardeman, of Cumming, Ga., is dying from the result of an encounter with a mad dog on Wednesday night. He had a call into the country, making the journey on horseback. While on his way back he was met by a huge mastiff belonging to Edward Pearson. The dog, which was running with its nose close to the ground, sprang, at the doctor's horse, the rider being thorwn to the ground. The infuriated animal at once sprang upon the doctor, and, finally securing hold of his hip, pulled away viciously, imbedding his teeth deeper and deeper into the flesh. In his despair, Dr. Hardeman jerked out his pistol and began firing. The animal still clung to him, being rendered more savage by the pistol flashes, while the doctor was not able to get good aim until the third ahot, when, placing the muzzle of his revolver to the dog's head, he sent a bullet through its brain. The animal maintained its grip while writhing in its death agony, and it was only after its death that the doctor was not after himself. Upon reaching home he was told that the dog had gone mad during could free himself. Upon reaching home he was told that the dog had gone mad during the day. This knowledge threw the doctor the day. In sknowledge threw the doctor into a state of nervous prostration, bordering on frenzy. His father at once set out thirty miles for a madstone of alleged wonderful properties. He rode for twelve hours without stopping, only to find on his return home that his son had placed himself become hore by heading the wounds with return home that his son had placed himself beyond hope by branding the wounds with a red-hot iron. The young man found that while his father was away the poison would secure such a hold that he could derive no benefit from the madstone. It was thus that without flinching he applied the red-hot poker to the wounds and burned deep into the flesh. As a consequence, the madinto the flesh. As a consequence, the mad-stone would not adhere, though repeated efforts were made to accomplish that result. The unfortunate young man is suffering ter-

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrheas, griping in the bowels, and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Paper Hangers.

Plexandria Gazette.

The GAZETTE is now the oldest paper in the State, and with few exceptions the oldest in the country, and its usefulness has been demonstrated and appreciated during the EIGHTY-SEVEN YEARS of its existence. In its columns has always been found a mirror of passing events, and the careful chronicling of the history of what is going on in the world has ever been its aim. It is always welcomed in the household, while in the counting room and workshop it has become invaluable. The GAZETTE has better facilities for obtaining news than any paper outside of the national capital. Situated as it is so close to the great centre of news, it enjoys daily the benefit of the Associated Press dispatches from every part of the world; hence its patrons can read from its columns in the evening what has transpired that day in every portion of our own domain as well as from every part of the habitable globe. Consequently it is an every day occurrence for the GAZETTE to publish telegrams from the various European capitals twelve and fifteen hours earlier than the morning pa-

Another feature that serves to make the GAZETTE a great desideratum with mer chants is its afternoon market reports from New York, Baltimore, Chicago and other

The local department furnishes a full and complete history of everything that occurs in and near the city, and this feature will,

as ever, receive careful attention. Correspondence from Washington, Rich mond and every section of the State, is published regularly, and all events of interest occurring within the bounds of the Commonwealth are to be found in the columns of the GAZETTE.

The GAZETTE's circulation is steadily in creasing, especially among people who consult its advertising columns before purchasing. That this is self-evident may be inferred from the fact that a large country edition-nearly as large as the daily-is sent all over this section of country three times a week, and is read by thousands, most of whom send here or to contiguous cities to make purchases. The advantages of advertising in the GAZETTE are, therefore, ap-
